LETTER FROM GEORGE O. BARNES

CUMBERLAND FALLS, KY., July 20, '88.

DEAR INTERIOR—The "environments" are greatly different from those of my visit to this beautiful spot in '65. Then, the only house was "Parson Renfro's" cabin, where chance visitors received such homely fare and rough lodgement, as he could afford to furnish for moderate compensation. But even then, the pure air, restorative water and splendid fishing and hunting amply repaid for any trifling inconveniences; and the fish and venison that fell to successful rods and rifles, furnished an abundant table.

Of course the scenery is unchanged. These grand cliffs with their beetling crags towering above us, on both sides of the Cumberland, verify the phrase of "everlasting hills;" and the ceaseless waterfall is just the same—now thundering down with swollen yellow flood; and again gently dropping its veil of exquisitely patterned lace-work, wrought in endless variety of watery design. One can watch it, with fascinated gaze, by the hour, and never grow weary. And at night, I know no more soothing, sleep-inviting sound than the monotonous lullaby of its unvarying cataract cradle song. The first night—the strangeness of it, makes one wakeful; but after that—it is all "Hush my babe, lie still and slumber;" and the "rising bell" becomes a personal affront.

Our friends of many years—Soc Owens and his lovely wife—keep an establishment that is bound to please, even fastidious guests. The quadrangle of double-storied structures that have replaced the humble domicile of "Parson Renfro" have greatly changed the place. The entire premises abound in shade trees; so that the sun hardly strikes one even in the middle of the day; and the towering cliffs to east and west secure sunrise about 9 and sunset about 5 o'clock—a very desirable arrangement in July and August, as all ought to know.

One feature of Soc's house-building I like much. It is the wealth of verandah room, above and below stairs. One can walk as many miles under cover on a rainy day as there may be strength or inclination to overtake. The galleries are so arranged, in endless succession, that one need not be exposed to the weather a moment in all that exercise-taking.

But we have only had one of that sort of days since arrival, and our out-goings and in-comings have been quite unrestrained.

Fishing for "cat" and "bass" are the order of the day among the fishermen, of whom we have five or six, enthusiastic and indefatigable. One of the excitements of the day is the inspection and comparison of the different "strings," as the wearied disciples of the "Gentle Izaak" drop in one after another, when the shadows lengthen. The table is abundantly furnished with the freshest and daintiest of the finny tribe. Since the water cleared the "takes" of bass have been fine.

The ladies walk, boat and go splashing—the latter every evening—in lieu of swimming, at a safe place a few hundred yards above the falls; where the smooth rock bottom and water about the uniform depth of four feet, invite to a safe paddle, before supper.

There are sundry attractive excursions

below the falls, where one can put in the time most enjoyably. Last season at this time there was a perfect crush of visitors; and hundreds were turned away for lack of accommodation. Now we have a small, but select circle of guests, more like a large family than a hotel full of boarders. All of which is very pleasant for us, though Soc, I dare say, would rather have his rooms and tables crowded. As it is, nothing could be more agreeable, where everybody knows everybody else, and all feel free and easy.

Our old friends, Nath Woodcock, wife and daughter, whose guests we are, in this little recreation episode of our wandering lives, came in Monday night. Nath is what has been graphically described as "a whole team" in such an excursion as this. We were certainly not in a state of stagnation before he came, for we were jolly and happy enough; but since he added his vivacious personality to our party, there has been a sensation of increased momentum, such as there is at sea, when a gentle zephyr grows into a stiff breeze. It is astonishing how one man can communicate his geniality to a whole household of people. Nath's exuberant fun is very contagious, and he is not one of these up and down fellows, whom you never know where to find. In all the years of our acquaintance, I have never seen the least change in his hearty jollity; and the wonderful thing is how he keeps up an even state of freshness of witty remark. No one can ring a "chestnut bell" on Nath. I have never met his match for fun, that just bubbles over every moment.

Our little lamb, that went over the falls just one week ago, and lived to tell the tale, is the pet of the household. As I mentioned in my last, the day after its wonderful rescue, it strayed off up the mountain-side, but Soc followed it and rescued it from rather a perilous position. Since then it has become thoroughly reconciled to its new quarters, and is so completely spoiled, that it threatens to become a first-class nuisance, were it not for its pathetic history, that has awakened an unbounded sympathy in all our hearts, that we can endure easily what would be intolerable in an ordinary pet. So the little creature gets nothing but caresses thus far. By a subtle law of affinity, that we have all noticed in the young clinging to the young, our fondling immediately made friends with the only child of the party—pretty little five-year-old Ethel Johnston—and soon verified the well-known ballad:

Mary had a little lamb,
Its fleece was white as snow,
And everywhere that Mary went
The lamb was sure to go.

Its second choice is "Mamma," who in the role of foster mother, gives it its milk three times daily. When feeding time comes and the rations are withheld for any cause, the lambkin energetically demands the reason why, in such an uninterruptedly series of piteous bleats that the whole family is soon aware of its wants. What shall be done with it is the question just now—not settled as yet.

An old Dayton, Ohio, friend came in last night—a Baptist preacher, Brother Jennings—bringing his two daughters with him. I promise myself great pleasure in hearing the good old man tell me what he knows of the LORD. He knows a good deal, I discovered years ago.

Sunday we had two services in the ball-room. About 20 of the neighbors dropped in to the morning meeting. These decreased to 10 in the afternoon; and to an appointment for Monday afternoon there was not a single response. So

I "gathered assuredly" that the dear LORD wanted me to have a perfect rest for these two weeks; and although "I thought" a sermon a day would help me to quicker convalescence, I am content to have it as it is. I have gained just 5 pounds in a week. That is the entire loss of the recent attack of illness, made up again; and if I can only put on 5 lbs. more of healthy adipose and muscle, before we leave next Thursday, it will be an additional feather in the cap of Cumberland Falls as a sanitarium; as well as a testimony to the goodness of the LORD—without whose loving care no recuperation would be possible.

I am writing this on the 34th anniversary of our wedding day, with the faithful companion of those eventful years sitting by my side. We have just wished each other "many happy returns;" unless "The Bridegroom" comes, which is a "return" we both long for more lovingly than even the oft recurrence of a bridal anniversary.

The wait, snatched from its watery grave, is curled up at her motherly feet. It is weary of romping with its child-companion and knows where it can have a quiet time. A pretty picture. I wish an artist could sketch it.

Ever in Jesus, GEO. O. BARNES.

Long-Standing

Blood Diseases are cured by the persevering use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

This medicine is an Alternative, and causes a radical change in the system. The process, in some cases, may not be quite so rapid as in others; but, with persistence, the result is certain. Read these testimonials:—

"For two years I suffered from a severe pain in my right side, and had other troubles caused by a torpid liver and dyspepsia. After giving several medicines a fair trial without a cure, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was greatly benefited by the first bottle, and after taking five bottles I was completely cured."—John W. Benson, 70 Lawrence st., Lowell, Mass.

Last May a large carbuncle broke out on my arm. The usual remedies had no effect and I was confined to my bed for eight weeks. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Less than three bottles healed the sore. In all my experience with medicine, I never saw more Wonderful Results.

Another marked effect of the use of this medicine was the strengthening of my sight."—Mrs. Carrie Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

"I had a dry scaly humor for years, and suffered terribly; and, as my brother and sister were similarly afflicted, I presume the malady is hereditary. Last winter, Dr. Tyron, (of Fernandina, Fla.) recommended me to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and continue it for a year. For five months I took it daily. I have not had a blemish upon my body for the last three months."—T. E. Wiley, 146 Chambers st., New York City.

"Last fall and winter I was troubled with a dull, heavy pain in my side. I did not notice it much at first, but it gradually grew worse until it became almost unbearable. During the latter part of this time, disorders of the stomach and liver increased my troubles. I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after faithfully continuing the use of this medicine for some months, the pain disappeared and I was completely cured."—Augusta A. Furbush, Haverhill, Mass.

—J. H. Athey, a young married man, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head, at Memphis; cause not known.

—Miss Emma Morsly, of Louisville, protected herself against the attack of a burly negro burglar by breaking his head with a heavy perfume bottle.

—The Courier-Journal says that the Blaine family, meaning James G. and his son, will soon take the stump and preach free whisky and protection.

—The immense seven story building of Krippendorf & Ditman, boot and shoe men of Cincinnati, was burned Tuesday. Loss estimated at $300,000.

—Marion, Ind., rejoices because the President has signed the bill locating a National Soldiers' Home at that place which will cost not less than a half million dollars.

—It is thought in Washington that Congress will adjourn about August 15, this idea being based upon the assumption that the Senate will devote but three weeks to the Mills Bill.

—Gen. W. C. Wickham, Receiver of the Newport News and Mississippi Valley Railway, died in his office on Monday afternoon. The doctors attribute his death to heart disease.

—A Chicago young woman wore out her $8 parasol over the head of a dude who had greeted her with an "ah, there!" After threshing the fellow to her heart's content, she made him pay for the shattered parasol.

—The Democrats of Breckenridge county, at a primary election held last Saturday, nominated Thomas Atkinson for County Judge, vice Pulliam, the murderer of Miller, resigned. The election will be held in August.

—The heavy Scandinavian vote in Minnesota will this year be deflected from the Republican column, owing to the strong sentiment in favor of tariff reform. Many of these votes will be cast for the Democratic ticket, the remainder going with Protectionists. The Republican party has reached the beginning of the end, and its grave will be dug in the great Northwest.

—Sam Hanks and Mat Smitzer and Miss Kate Foley, all living near High Bridge, went over to Lexington Monday evening with a view of seeing something of the city and returning on the night train. Smitzer got drunk soon after arriving at Lexington and was locked up in the station, while Hanks, partly crazed by liquor, took the young lady to see an indecent portion of town and committed the heinous crime of rape upon her. A mob will likely dispose of Hanks. Miss Foley is a very pretty young lady of 16 summers and is said to be of a good family.

—Judge Lewis, who emptied 4 barrels of whisky on the ground at Harlan court house, has continued the good work of searching the town for the "nasty stuff." The stores of John M. Blair, M. E. Howard and several others were entered and barrels, kegs and bottles in profusion hustled into the street, where the Judge with all possible coolness proceeded to knock the bungs and heads out with an ax, turning the contents into the street, while his comrades, about 20 in number, stood guard with their Winchester. The whisky party in turn rallied, and among themselves returned to town with blood in their eyes. Judge Lewis and his party met them and a hot encounter took place in the street. A hundred shots or more were fired, but none killed. Five were carried off wounded, to what extent is not known. Judge Lewis declares the whisky traffic shall cease. Both factions are in arms and further and more serious trouble is expected.

—Tom Ramsey, the great base ballist, is in jail in Jeffersonville, on bail writs sworn out by two saloon-keepers, who trusted him not wisely but too much.

—At Morley's Station, Cal., James Mason, a veteran stage driver, bought a 50-pound box of giant powder, sat on it and touched a match to it. The Coroner held an inquest on 20 pounds of the remains gathered in a basket.

—Messrs. Ives and Stayner, popularly supposed to be hiding in Canada, walked quietly into a courtroom at Cincinnati Tuesday afternoon and gave bonds in the sum of $10,000 each to answer the indictments found against them.

—Dudley B. Smith, of Courtlandt, Conn., has collected $15,362 from the estate of his late grandmother, for the increase of three ducks which he loaned the lady in 1866. The other heirs object to Mr. Smith's efforts to make ducks and drakes of the estate, and there will be a legal contest over the claim.

—The House Wednesday passed Gov. McCreary's bill providing for the establishment of a land court for the investigation and settlement of private land claims in Colorado and the Territories of Alaska and New Mexico. The court will be composed of a Chief Justice and two Associate Justices to be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate.

—A secret convention of railroad employees for the consideration of the Burlington strike was held at St. Joseph, Mo., yesterday. David Replogle, a stenographer, was caught concealed above the hall making a report of the proceedings and narrowly escaped personal injuries. He was imprisoned to await charges, as the members of the convention seem to think it criminal to collect news for the press.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—The circus was well patronized and seemed to give satisfaction.

—The Union Sunday-School Convention, composed of this and several adjoining counties, convened here Wednesday evening.

—Our community was shocked on Tuesday by an extremely sad occurrence. J. Breck Johnston, one of our very best citizens and a fine young business man, suicided by shooting himself through the head with a pistol. He lived but a short time after the shooting. He left behind a letter to his brother in which he stated that he had been accused by Mr. E. Brown, by whom he had lately been employed as book-keeper, of misappropriating some money belonging to the firm. He leaves a wife and one child. These were absent at the time on a visit to Mrs. Johnston's parents in Iowa. The event has cast a gloom over the whole county. Mr. Johnston was strictly moral in every respect, being a leading member of the Christian church. The remains were interred here yesterday.

HUSTONVILLE.

—The weather is so fearfully dry and hot as to delay the opening of the rural schools, in consequence of the houses not affording protection from the sun.

—The prevalent opinion here is that the moon's eclipse was a stupendous fraud. The countenances of the spectators at the conclusion of the farce recalls forcibly the case of a fellow some 50 years ago who pressed through a crowd to see a tambourine, the notes of which had filled his soul with witching melody. At last he saw it and turned away in blank amazement muttering: "It's nothing but a d-d old sifter."

—I learn that Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Adams, of Montgomery, Ala., are at L. B. Adams'. Mr. Ed Hopper, of Covington, who has been visiting friends here, left for home Monday. Mr. Sam Cannitz, of Covington, is here with his brother. A large number of our citizens are away at various summer resorts. Rev. J. C. Randolph had a large congregation on Sunday notwithstanding. Henry Powell, one of our colored exquisites, returned from Junction City Monday evening with his head badly demoralized—it being his head, however, no serious results are anticipated. Mr. and Mrs. Uriah Dunn, with son Jesse and wife, have gone on a round of visits among relatives in East Lincoln and Garrard.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

—Mrs. Margaret Owsley, wife of Jomathan Owsley, died yesterday morning, after a short illness, of typhoid fever, in her 50th year. She was a sister of Mr. Craig Lynn, who died a few days ago, and like him possessed many good qualities. Mrs. Owsley had been one of the best members of the Baptist church near Halls Gap for many years and her death will be a great loss to the church, as well as to the community. She leaves a husband and three children—Mrs. J. A. Moore, Mrs. O. P. Newland and a young son—to mourn their loss. Her remains will be laid to rest in Buffalo Cemetery this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

CRAIG LYNN.

"A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children." The death of this old gentleman removes from society a member whose place will not soon, if ever, be filled. Like the tearing down of a cherished landmark or monument, the spot where it stood will be remembered—reverenced. But no new structure will be reared which can draw about it the attracting respect and sanctity of the old. Faithfully typical of the perfect Kentucky gentleman of a generation that has now almost passed away, there was within him a concentration of gentlemanly, knightly and christian virtues that was recognized by and endeared him to all who were associated or acquainted with him. Over a manly courage and strong temperment, constantly ruled by the sword of a christian spirit, he ever presented the attracting graces of a gentle deportment and polite manners. With a sound mind and an honest heart, to which he made wisdom and integrity handmaidens, he went through the seventy years of his pilgrimage an honorable and useful man, faithfully and honestly doing his duty, dispensing charity and assisting others as far as he could and harming no man. And the goodness which was in him was born with him, for reared during a period when it was not possible for him to acquire any more than a limited education, his virtues came of natural impulse and were far superior to education, science or art.

As a husband, father and grand-father he was as perfect as it is possible for any man to be. He was liberal and indulgent, but exercised a kind and proper discipline and trained his children in the way they should go and no patriarch even of the most blessed days of Israel's people was ever gathered unto his Father's more tenderly beloved by his children and children's children.

His conduct as a neighbor was in keeping with his character generally. Passing his whole life upon the same spot and in the same community, no one can be found there to speak a word against his fair name, or instance an unneighborly act done by him. He never sought positions at the hands of his fellow citizens and with the exception of that of justice of the peace, which was thrust upon him by his neighbors, he never held a public office. And whilst a magistrate he stood always in the lead in conservative uprightness. As a member of the county court he was beyond question the most prudent and wisest counsellor in the fiscal affairs of the county, yet withal particularly careful to see that public charity was properly dispensed and that every just obligation of the county honestly and promptly paid to the uttermost farthing. In fiduciary positions and in positions held by him in his church, either from necessity or conviction, he discharged every duty so faithfully that no word of complaint was ever heard against him.

During his entire life he was diligent in business and without ever being charged with or even suspected of parsimony or avarice, acquired a competency for himself and family.

Living the life he did the Lord's promise of length of days, quiet and contentment was fulfilled unto him, except that during the last few days of his life God visited him and his family with sore afflictions, sorrow and death. But amid it all he sustained himself and encouraged those dearest to him with an unflinching faith, remembering the wisest man's injunction, "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart and lean not upon thine own understanding," and "soothed and sustained by this unflinching trust, he approached his grave like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams." To those who knew him his character and conduct are an example and a lesson. Let his name be honored, for his good works shall live after him.

ROCK CASTLE SPRINGS.

ROCK CASTLE SPRINGS, July 25.—Watering place literature is usually regarded as the veriest slush in all well regulated offices and when sent by correspondents is generally gently laid away in that convenient receptacle for such effusions—the waste basket. I shall not therefore impose another letter upon our readers simply because I can, but will merely say that starting in favorably impressed, the place has grown in my good opinion hourly, and not being of a selfish nature, I wish to have everybody come and enjoy it, hence these few lines. The crowd continues to grow and but few are to tear themselves away after once getting here. Misses Sophie and Sadie Bright, two of Danville's prettiest, have been added since my last to the scores of pretty girls, that are sweet enough to turn the heads of even as old a clogger as myself. This is emphatically the place for a young man to come if he wishes to be lionized and live in an atmosphere of tender smiles. If you don't believe me ask Andy Crawford, of Somerset, who is in the swim. There are a number of them here, but not enough to go around and it is sad to see so much sweetness wasted as the girls are doing.

The ways to amuse and enjoy oneself are so numerous and varied that it leaves no time for writing, even if I had the inclination to tax your patience. I leave in a few moments with a congenial party in boats for the Cumberland and may tell of the trip in another letter.

—Fred Lazarus, who has conducted a cash dry goods store here for about six years, sold out on Wednesday to Mr. J. H. Otter, who will carry on business on the same plan.

—Mr. F. A. Marks received a telegram Tuesday announcing the death of his nephew, Joseph A. Newman, at Elbow Lake, Minnesota. Mr. Newman was connected with the regular army. No particulars concerning his death.

—The democrats of Boyle county are not letting the grass grow under their feet. The county club met Wednesday night and did big work. An address by Mr. Louis Cohn is regarded as an able exposition of democratic doctrine.

—Mrs. Mary Welsh, of Nicholasville, is visiting Mrs. Lucy Welsh. Mrs. H. W. Evans, of Kansas City, is visiting Danville friends. Mr. Felix Fox, of Kansas City, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Eliza Fox. Mrs. J. L. Ford, of St. Louis, is visiting her sister, Mrs. James Kincaid. Mrs. Frank Gilcher is visiting friends in Lexington. Mr. D. S. Hinman has returned from a visit to Crab Orchard.

—Mr. W. G. Kincaid died at his home Wednesday about 2 o'clock. He was a son of the late Hon. John Kincaid, in his day an eminent member of the Lincoln county bar. After leaving Stanford he came to Danville and lived here many years and while here represented the district in Congress. W. G. Kincaid was a man of liberal education and a graduate of West Point in the same class with U. S. Grant. After a service of several years in the army, he resigned and studied law with his father. He practiced with success throughout this judicial district, but about 25 years ago bought a farm near Perryville where he lived up to the time of his death. It is not idle flattery to say that he was an upright, honorable man and a thorough gentleman. His sons, Charles E. Kincaid and Howard Kincaid, both of Washington City, were with their father at the time of his death. Mr. Kincaid died a Catholic, having been received into the church by Father A. J. Brady, resident here, some days ago.

Henderson Weisegar is a monstrous good cornet player and has been part of the choir at the colored Methodist church. But Henderson is a convivial soul and when a notion for a tod strikes him he'll have it or bust. Mr. Weisegar was drunk all day Sunday and as twilight deepened with a tinge of eve, he suddenly remembered his engagement to dispense religious music; so he shouldered his cornet and by the time he reached the church the congregation had assembled. When Henderson is intoxicated he is almost kittenish in the character and variety of his pranks, and when he gets drunk he becomes an innovator if not a revolutionist. As has been remarked when Henderson arrived at the temple it was filled with people and he smiled roguishly as the idea occurred to him that if it was devotional to play after he had reached the back part of the church, it was equally so to toot a little as he wended his way toward the rear, and Mr. Weisegar walked in, and at the threshold his cornet belched forth, not an accompaniment to "Old Hundred" or anything calculated to wait a slaver to the shining shore, but a lively composition known among worldlings who shake their feet as "The devil's quickstep." The staid elders were amazed and grieved and the brethren and sisters affected almost to tears at the unseemly exhibition. A few unconverted small boys tumbled on to the thing and would have wildly applauded Uncle Henderson if they hadn't been afraid. Two-thirds the way down the aisle three elders tackled Uncle H. and tried to suppress him, but he cast them off crying, "You'll play h-l with the music if you don't let me alone!" Reinforcements arriving, the inappropriate musician and his inappropriate music were finally hustled out. The latest rumor concerning the woeful affair is that Henderson has resigned his position and will play no more with the choir.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—The picnic which will be given in Mr. W. M. Higgins' woods at Sugar Grove next Saturday will be well represented from here.

—The school just beyond the depot is being taught by Miss Kate Hays and the school at Sugar Grove by Mrs. Hannah Steger. She began last Monday. They are both good teachers.

—Our young people very frequently attend the balls at Dripping Springs. One is always sure to find some amusement there that will interest them and make their stay very enjoyable.

—Mr. Sam Tatem has something like a carbuncle on his foot and has to walk on crutches. Mr. Will Curtis and family will soon move to Lexington to live. We regret to lose them from our county.

—Mrs. Livingston and her daughter, Miss Belle, of Jessamine, are visiting Mrs. Stephen Pennington. —Mr. Jack Gover, of Stanford, is spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Gover. Mr. Jesse Mershon, wife and children, of Lexington, are the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grove Kennedy. Messrs. D. S. Hinman and A. E. Gibbons, of Danville, were in town several days. Mrs. George Denny, of Lexington, is visiting Mrs. Mollie Scott. Mrs. Sallie Rhinehart is back from Pineville. Miss Hopper, of Lebanon, is stopping at the Harris House and drinking the medicinal water here. Mrs. James Miller's many friends are glad to see her back at her old home. Miss Nannie Kennedy has returned from a visit to her sister, Mrs. M. C. Williams, at Mt. Vernon. Mr. J. H. Hutchings went to Danville this week.

SOMEWHAT PERSONAL.

DAVE FOYSTER, of Mt. Vernon, was in town yesterday.

MR. S. C. LACKEY is visiting his sister, Mrs. W. M. Fields, at Lexington.

MRS. MOODY HARDIN, of Lancaster, has been visiting Mrs. Etta Vanarsdale.

MESSRS. GEO. D. HOPPER, M. F. ELKIN and Harvey Helm are all sick, none seriously, however.

MR. G. W. TRIBLE, of Springfield, Mo., is here on a visit to his son, Mr. W. A. Tribble, and other relatives.

MISSSES MAMIE CURTIS and Susie Yeager, two lovely young ladies from Louisville, are spending a couple of weeks at Mr. Adam W. Carpenter's.

MISS MOLLIE PEYTON has returned from Knoxville, where she has been to see her brother, Masterson Peyton, who, we are glad to say, is up again.

It was Miss Bee Sullivan, of Cincinnati, instead of Miss Mary Sullivan, of Louisville, who was the guest of the Misses Hales. Our informant who gave us this got things "kinder tangled up."

We notice in the Winchester Sun that a large number of young people from that place are viewing the sights that Mammoth Cave affords. In the list are Misses Annie Shanks, of this place, and Nancy Ragland, of whom Miss Shanks is the guest.

MISSSES BESSIE DUNE and Jesse Cook, of Hustonville, and Messrs. J. H. Moore, Danville, and W. D. Weatherford, Richmond, who have been making headquarters at the Russell Springs for several days, were in this city last Saturday.—[Columbia Spectator.

MR. JOHN H. WOODCOCK passed thro' Wednesday on his way to Lancaster from Cumberland Falls, where he has spent a couple of weeks with the Barnes troupe. He says they are all looking splendidly and especially Bro. Barnes, who has fattened a number of pounds during his recreation. The troupe goes to Glenn Mary, Tenn., in a few days, and after a week's meeting will go to Danville.

MR. WALTER FIELDS, who has been in feeble health for some time, got out of bed and left his room Monday night without the knowledge of the other occupants of the house. Tuesday morning he was found lying on the porch in a very critical condition and as still as though he were dead. He soon rallied, however, and is now able to be going about, although there seems to be some trouble about his mind as he talks at random and is not at all the same man he was before the attack. He is some 75 years old and it may be that he is in his dotage.

FOR RENT.—Two suites of rooms in the Farris & Ramsey building, opposite the Portman House for rent. Apply to W. F. Ramsey.

MRS. LOUISA COX, of Humphrey, will be in Stanford the first Monday in August and will be ready for any business in the pension line.

THE town tax books are now ready and Marshal George Carpenter will be around to see you in a few days. Please prepare for his coming.

THE latest thing out in the way of wearing rings is to let it adorn the thumb of the right hand. The Stanford populace who keep pace with the fashion should at once follow suite or they might be termed just a bit slow.

'SQUIRE HIGGINS, a negro in the Walnut Flat district, offers a liberal reward for information leading to the whereabouts of his boy, aged 17, who left his parental roof on the 14th. He is a gentleman of the blonde type and is about 6 feet tall.

I HAVE gone into the shoemaking and repairing business for myself and hereafter will be found at my home, opposite Col. W. G. Welch's residence, where I will be glad to wait on my old customers and as many new ones as may come. T. J. Hatcher.

AGAIN we urge the democrats to do their duty by going to the polls Monday, Aug. 6th, and voting for Thomas D. Newland for sheriff. A lack of duty on the part of even a few democrats might give us a republican in the place of this most worthy democrat. Go early and stay late and see that your neighbors go.

THE Kirksville Fair begins to-day. A good deal of stock has already gone from this county and the prospects are that the show of fine horses will this year eclipse any former exhibit. A good many young people will go from here this evening and enjoy the hop at Kirksville to-night and be on hand for the fair to-morrow. Kirksvillians know better than any people how to make it pleasant for the young folks.

It has been many a day since that great lover of a circus, "Uncle Joe" Davis, has missed one that has exhibited here. The old gentleman is very low with abscess of the liver and the probability is that he will not live long. It hardly looked like a circus was in town yesterday as Mr. Davis, who usually stayed around the tent from the time it was stretched till it was taken down, could be seen nowhere. Old Uncle Lewis Russell and Dr. Brown, of Hustonville, were both there though, which partly made up for the absence of Mr. Davis.

Seacrest, President.

WEDNESDAY evening as the religious editor of this paper was returning from the base ball game, accompanied by a young lady, who desires that her name be kept from the public, more especially in this article, the buggy in which they were riding all of a sudden disunited its front and rear wheels, and in a way anything else but gentle, precipitated the occupants to the ground. The horse, which seemed to think it was his duty to pull the front wheels only, started off at a lively gallop, seemingly unaware of the fact that he had hanging to the other end of the reins the religious editor, Methodist inclined, and who has a grip for things other than chicken legs. A stout pull of the reins with one hand—the other holding fast to a lamp post, which just then came to his assistance—soon caused the horse to come to a halt. Realizing the fact that he should have turned his attention to the lady instead of the horse, but here let him say that she assured him before they touched the ground that she was unhurt, and that Mr. Lucien Lasley was on the spot and he with his good wife were giving their undivided attention to her, he went back and to his delight saw that from the smile on her face she had heartily enjoyed the performance between him and the horse, in which he came out second best. With that determination possessed by no others than Methodists, he immediately sent for another rig, and in ten minutes was enjoying the drive as if nothing had happened. He desires to thank Mr. and Mrs. Lasley for their kindness in rendering such timely assistance and to the young lady, who declared she was not the least made, but who had such sufficient cause to be.

AN interesting letter from our old friend, Mr. T. W. Wash, of Liberty, came too late for this issue, but will appear in our next.

LET as many democrats as can be present at the convention at the Court-House to-morrow evening, Saturday, to appoint delegates to the district convention, which convenes at Danville August 8th to nominate a democratic candidate for Congress.

THE pension board examined twelve applicants for pensions Wednesday and the last one passed. The day seems not far distant when even those who heard of the war will draw money they have no earthly right to from the government.

A LETTER received from the editor at Rock Castle Springs yesterday informed us that he will return to-day and take charge of this paper, his foot being a good deal better. We will not attempt a valedictory on retiring, but in our usually awkward way bow out, no doubt greatly to the delight of thousands of readers of the INTERIOR JOURNAL.

THE Lebanon Standard comes back at us because we referred to him as a red-headed editor, &c. We care not to continue these slings of sarcasm, as we cannot see how it would in the least interest our readers and too we feel like doing anything else but quarreling with this delightful weather. The Lebanon gentleman will therefore please excuse us from further argument, which was gotten up by himself to give his paper notoriety.

FROM the account the papers give, the High Bridge camp meeting must have been disgraceful from beginning to end. Any number of persons have been fined for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, while on Sunday last drunken rowdies took the day. Those of our people who intended going now congratulate themselves on staying at home. Camp meetings, and especially High Bridge, should be suppressed.

COACHES will be attached to through freight trains between Lebanon and London August 24 and 31, to accommodate people to and from the Stanford Fair and excursion tickets will be on sale at each station between those points on above dates. Train will leave London at 4 o'clock a. m., arriving at Stanford about 8:30 a. m., returning leave Stanford for London at 5:20 p. m. Leave Lebanon at 8:30 a. m., arrive at Stanford 11:20 a. m.; returning leave Stanford at 7:35 p. m. for Lebanon.

WE have been shown by his grandson, Willie Craig, "The Literary Scrap Book" of over 200 pages, printed by Mr. B. VanArsdale, in Harrodsburg in 1823. Mr. VanArsdale had at that time served three years as a practical printer and quit the business, having made a fortune in that time, as printers always do. He is now 83 years of age and still distinctly and accurately remembers nearly all the mysteries of the "art preservative of all arts," and seems to refer to the fact with pardonable pride that he was once a practical printer.

NOTHING like the crowd that usually attend circuses took in Main & Co.'s show here yesterday. It had exhibited at Crab Orchard and Lancaster and the people were too well acquainted with it to patronize it. Carrying no menagerie and not even affording a ring, it was of course a very poor excuse for a circus. The jokes of the clowns which were the greater part of the show, were for the most part stale and dry, the only redeeming features being the clever work of Andy Spears as a "general utility man" and the Adair Brothers' Japanese perch and trapeze act. For want of time we left before the concert. On account of the high license, $37 for each performance, they did not exhibit last night.

COLLOWAY NANCE, who lives near McKinney, came in town Wednesday and had a warrant of arrest issued for Mrs. Lucretia Baer, who he claimed had fired two shots at him while he was passing her house and stating at the same time that he had given her no cause for so doing. From a gentleman who is in a situation to know we learned that for some time Mr. Nance had been guilty of yelling indecent epithets at her as he rode by Mrs. Baer's, who lives on Hanging Fork and her patience at last ceased to be a virtue she shot at him, to scare him, for being a very poor shot she knew she could not hit him. Mrs. Baer, although seemingly a nice lady, has had a good deal of trouble since she moved here from Ohio, and the law will no doubt take the case in its hands now and see in whom the fault lies.

FOR the third time the Olympics of Louisville defeated the INTERIOR JOURNAL Base Ball Club at the public school grounds, Wednesday evening, by a score of 16 to 5. Our namesakes, instead of preparing for the game and getting their best men, paid no attention till the last moment and the consequence was their nine was picked up one instead of the regular players. The I. J.'s went to bat first and made three scores on the first inning, but after that played a very poor game. The only redeeming feature was the work of the battery composed of Seagle and Embury, who played all through a pretty fair game. The Olympics are all good players and it is not a wonder that an amateur club like ours suffered defeat at the hands of a club so near professionals. Mr. Scott, of Danville, umpired very satisfactorily to both sides and the game was harmonious from beginning to end.

OUR Lancaster correspondent gives the full details of the suicide of J. Breck Johnston, at that place. Mr. Johnston, it will be remembered, took the role of "David, the Shepherd Boy," in the performance given by the Lancaster troupe a couple of months ago.

Likes Stanford Roller Mills Flour.

STANFORD FLOUR MILLS, Dear Sirs:—For four years I have been using a brand of flour and have never found anything to equal it, until I tried your Patent No. 1, and I believe it not only equals it, but is far superior. Send me 5 more barrels. D. G. SLAUGHTER.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—John M. Ball, a widower of 35, and Miss Clara Innis were married at the bride's home near Maywood Tuesday.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Eld. J. Bell Gibson writes that he will be back from Rock Castle Springs and will fill his pulpit Sunday next.

—Elder J. G. Livingston will preach at the school-house at Preachersville on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. He will also preach at the usual hour at night.

—Rev. James Garrison, of Lexington, has just closed a two week's meeting at the church at Turnersville, which resulted in 35 additions. The members were greatly awakened by the meeting, which has been the source of great good.

—At the High Bridge Camp Meeting, Sunday, Sam Jones told them how to build up character, and here is a sample brick in the edifice which he erected: "The Democratic party is represented by a barrel of whisky and the Republican party by negroes. If I had to swallow either I would prefer to pin back the ears of the negro and swallow him whole." Wallowing in such hog-wash as this is admirably adapted to building up character.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—Court Day.—J. A. Ramsey reports 250 cattle on the market. 22 head plain 1,050 cattle, $42; 36 head of 900-lb. steers, $32.65; 25 head of plain 2-year-olds, 600 lbs., $29; 20 700-lb. yearlings $24.10; 31 plain 800-lb. cattle $23.65; a bunch of short yearlings $15.05. The feeling was good in cattle and the price at least 1 cent better than last court. Cattle all sold.—[Winchester Sun.

Democratic Convention.

A mass convention of the democracy of Lincoln county is hereby called to meet at the court-house in Stanford at 2 p. m., Saturday, July 28, 1888, to appoint delegates to the district convention to be held at Danville on Wednesday, Aug. 8, 1888, to nominate a democratic candidate for Representative in the next Congress.

J. B. PAXTON, THOS. D. NEWLAND, Secretary, Chairman.

WAYNESBURG.

—H. W. Caldwell & Son have moved their store mill to Harvey Floyd's and are now sawing his white oak into oil barrel staves.

—The grading of the additional siding at this place has been completed and is now ready for the cross ties and rails. This extra siding track will add much to the convenience of the shippers from this point.

—C. C. Gooch & Co., the wide-awake merchants of this place, have so increased their business that they were compelled to hire an additional clerk. They have secured Jeff Padgett, who, with his hair cut with a lawn mower, stands behind the counter with some smiles that he always puts on, especially when the ladies come to see him.

—E. B. Caldwell, Sr., of Stanford, is visiting his brother, H. W. Caldwell, of this place. Misses Sallie and Mattie McClure and Eliza Pittman, of Mt. Vernon, are expected to arrive here to-morrow on a visit to Mrs. S. P. Gooch. They will probably remain during the two weeks' meeting which begins at the Baptist church on Saturday night next.

—Prof. W. F. Niles' school for the 5 months fall term is now in full blast. Our mountain town boasts of the best school-house, the best teacher and the best free school in the mountain end of Lincoln. Records will not lie. Bro. Bogle has just given notice that several school-houses in the south end of this county have been condemned. The only wonder is that he has not condemned them long before this.

—The corn crop in this end of Lincoln is the finest that has been seen since I can remember. The merchants are all busy buying and shipping blackberries. The berry trade is a new item among our people, but is bringing quite a good deal of the filthy lucre to our town. Our section was blessed last Thursday with one of those old-fashioned clod soakers and river raisers that the old darkey prayed for away back in slavery time. There was considerable wind and some hail mixed with the rain, but no serious damage was done.

—The burning of Mrs. Analiza Eubanks' house a few days since is to be regretted by all who know the facts. She is the widow of Jo Eubanks, who had such a painful operation performed on him nearly two years since, extracting a stone from his bladder, from the effects of which he died afterwards. In the meantime his wife gave birth to a child without any arms. The child is healthy in every other way, but is utterly helpless for life. In the midst of all her troubles she at last gets her house and almost everything contained in it burned. Mrs. Eubanks is a worthy lady. She has six children left to take care of and is now without a home. Any contributions sent her will be thankfully received.

A WEAK NOMINATION.—Gen. Harrison's nomination is not in any sense strong. He is lacking in most of the qualities which combine to make a great party leader and popular candidate before the people. He has not been especially distinguished either in military or civil life. Gen. Harrison cannot carry Indiana and he cannot be elected. He is identified with the cause of monopoly, and in this campaign monopoly is going to be defeated. The platform adopted at Chicago is the most outspoken, audacious and aggressive declaration of the force of monopoly that any political party in the United States has ever had the effrontery to put forward. Standing on such a platform, a far stronger candidate than Gen. Harrison would be certain of defeat. His personality will cut little figure in the campaign outside of Indiana.—[Indianapolis Sentinel.]

—R. W. Henry, a prominent young lawyer of Hopkinsville and democratic candidate for elector, committed suicide Sunday by shooting himself through the heart with a pistol. Cause not known.

Its Delicacy of Flavor

And the efficacy of its action have rendered the famous California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, immensely popular. It cleanses and tones up the clogged and feverish system, and dispels headaches, colds, and fevers.

—F. M. Ansley, general road master of the L. & N., has the reputation of being the best official in that line in the South. He has brought the road-bed to its present splendid condition, after four years' constant work and good management.

—Nothing occurred to disturb the peace at the circus here Monday, except two women had a regular hair pulling and scratching during the performance, on account of one thinking the other was being noticed too much by the other's husband.

—A number of changes in the agents and operators along the line will take place about the 1st of August. J. A. Newland, of Pittsburg, goes to Crab Orchard; Frank Clifford, of Livingston, gets London; Mr. O'Brien, of Crab Orchard, will take Rowland. Have not learned who will be placed at Livingston.

—T. G. Taylor, of Pine Hill, has announced himself as a candidate for sheriff on the democratic ticket. It is understood that two of the best men of the county are to be deputies under Mr. Taylor in case of his election. The ticket, as it stands, is a strong one and the republicans will not find that easy sailing they have been accustomed to for the last few years. The democrats are going in to win this time.

Miss Huber Turner, a daughter of Conductor Turner, is visiting this place. J. L. Whitehead and young Mr. Finley, of Williamsburg, were here Sunday. Mr. F. says Wolford will get a large soldier vote in the race between the old war horse and his father. Miss Mattie May Adams and sisters are visiting Bryansville.

AN HISTORIC EVENT.

Cincinnati's Jubilee of One Hundred Days.

The celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the settlement of the Northwest Territory, which is now in progress in Cincinnati, and which is to continue for one hundred days and nights, is one of the most important events of the present century. A dozen States are officially represented, the government has furnished a magnificent collection of curios from Washington, D. C., and all the arrangements of the Exposition are on a broad and liberal plan. The Art Gallery, for instance, is the finest ever seen in this country; the intrinsic value of the paintings in the collection is estimated at one million dollars. The electric light display will be the most brilliant ever witnessed in the United States. The new buildings with the permanent Music Hall and numerous annexes represent an area of forty-five acres under one continuous roof, and the space for exhibiting purposes aggregates nearly a million square feet. Reduced rates are given on all the railroads, which will insure a monster attendance.

Thirty-two years ago a manufacturing firm in Manchester, Conn., made up an immense lot of bandana handkerchiefs for A. T. Stuart, of New York, and he refused to take them on account of some defect. They were stowed away until the other day, when they were put on the market and sold readily. The same firm is now making 1,000 dozen bandanas a day, and can't supply the demand.

Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made. Jesse Middlewart, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of Lung Trouble. Was given up by doctors. Am now in the best of health." Mrs. Veneer—"My dear doctor, the season has prostrated me, my nerves are completely gone. What do I need?"

Doctor—"Absolute rest and quiet, ma'am."

Mrs. Veneer—"Where can I get it?"

Doctor—"Neither, my dear madam! Too exciting, too exciting! Try a few weeks in a town where the merchants do not advertise."

The editor of the Cincinnati Democrat visited the county poor-house a few days ago, and in describing what he saw, got things a little mixed, in the following paragraph:

"We noticed four work mules and three good cows, that furnish all the milk and butter used by the inmates, of whom there are now 28 in number, all white but five."

Beauty

Is desired and admired by all. Among the things which may best be done to enhance personal beauty is the daily use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. No matter what the color of the hair, this preparation gives it a lustre and pliancy that adds greatly to its charm. Should the hair be thin, harsh, dry, or turning gray, Ayer's Hair Vigor will restore the color, bring out a new growth, and render the old soft and shiny. For keeping the scalp clean, cool, and healthy, there is no better preparation in the market.

"I am free to confess that a trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor has convinced me that it is a genuine article. Its use has not only caused the hair of my wife and daughter to be Abundant and Glossy, but it has given my rather stunted mustache a respectable length and appearance."—R. Britton, Oakland, Ohio.

"My hair was coming out (without any assistance from my wife, either). I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor, using only one bottle, and I now have as fine a head of hair as any one could wish for."—R. T. Schmitt, Dickinson, Tenn.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor in my family for a number of years, and regard it as the best hair preparation I know of. It keeps the scalp clean, the hair soft and lively, and preserves the original color. My wife has used it for a long time with most satisfactory results."—Benjamin M. Johnson, M. D., Thomas Hill, Mo.

"My hair was becoming harsh and dry, but after using half a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor it grew black and glossy. I cannot express the joy and gratitude I feel."—Mabel C. Hardy, Delavan, Ill.
